Training For Supervisors

1. Situation. Reference (a) requires that all employees who may be exposed to hazardous chemicals in the workplace be provided Hazard Communication Training prior to initial assignment to work with a hazardous chemical and/or whenever the potential hazard changes. Reference (b) requires that individuals who are likely to witness or discover a hazardous substance release/spill in the workplace be provided First Responder Awareness training. 2. Mission. Natural Resources and Environmental Affairs (NREA) will conduct mandatory Hazard Communication and First Responder Awareness training for all Hazardous Material supervisors and managers. All supervisors of employees that may be exposed are required by law to attend this training. Unit S-4 Officers and safety personnel are invited to attend.

3. Execution. All supervisors, both military and civilian, of employees that work with hazardous materials shall attend one of the two training sessions. To allow for maximum participation, the training will be held on two separate dates, 8 and 10 December 2003, 0730 - 1130 at the Marine Air Ground Task Force Training Command (MAGTFTC) Theater. All Commanding Officers shall ensure compliance with this Bulletin, or will notify Natural Resources and Environmental Affairs (NREAs) Comprehensive Environmental Training and Education Program Coordinator (830-7396, extension 270) whether training commitments preclude some supervisors from attending.
